Local residents are backing Liz Leffman to be re-elected as our local County Councillor.

Liz first became our County Councillor in 2017, and has a track record of working hard and getting things done for our community.

In the district council elections, Liz is restanding in Charlbury & Finstock ward, Nigel Ridpath has joined the team as our Liberal Democrat candidate for Chadlington and Churchill and Sophie Kitching is our candidate for Milton-Under-Wychwood.

Liz has campaigned for investment in long term road maintenance to deal with the shocking state of local roads. She has already won a review of how often drains and gullies are cleared.

She has been successful in securing a 20 mph speed limit in Charlbury town centre, and she is already working with several smaller villages on similar schemes.

She has also championed the need to double the whole of the Cotswold Line, while the local Conservatives only want to do half the job.

If re-elected, Liz Leffman will continue to be the strong voice our area needs on the County Council.

Two horse race here

Elections in this area are always a two horse race between the Liberal Democrats and the Conservatives.

Labour can't win here, and voting for them or any other party just makes it easier for the Conservatives to win.

Tories throw away £1.6m on botched tender process

The Conservative councillors running Oxfordshire County Council are under fire for trying to cover up a massive £1.6 million loss due to a botched contract.

The council paid out £1 million in compensation and a further £600K in legal fees over the cock up.

They then sat on the information for nearly a year before telling councillors from other parties.

"This is shocking. That money could have paid for vital local services," said Cllr Liz Leffman.

"What's worse, not a single one of them has had the decency to apologise to local taxpayers."

The local Lib Dem team: the best choice for our community

Nigel Ridpath for Chadlington and Churchill

Nigel Ridpath moved to Chadlington in 2017 with his partner, Jane. They chose Chadlington having scoured the length of the Cotswolds for the perfect village to settle in.

Since arriving, he's immersed himself in the local community, becoming a director and trustee of Home Paddock and actively participating in village life. He's a regular at Café de la Post's Friday night dinners and Bowling Club Quizzes and loves early evening strolls around our beautiful village.

Sophie Kitching for Milton-Under-Wychwood

Sophie has lived in the Wychwoods for nearly 15 years and is currently a student at the University of Warwick.

She has a particular interest in environmental issues and sustainability, and is keen to work to protect the unique natural environment around our area.

Sophie founded and leads a group for neurodivergent students at her university, and is keen to bring some of her energy and commitment to issues of equality in all its forms back to her local community.

Positive change with the Liberal Democrats

- ✓ Tackle the Climate Emergency
- ✓ Invest in walking, cycling, bus and rail
- ✓ Invest in our young people
- ✓ Listen to and respect local residents
- ✓ Invest in Health and Social Care

OR

Waste, cuts and failure with the Conservatives.

- ✗ Support a 'growth at all costs' agenda
- ✗ Axed promised cycling schemes
- ✗ Closed most Children's Centres across the county
- ✗ Covered up massive financial blunders
- ✗ Cut £15 million from children's and adult social care

John Howson—the experienced choice for our new PCC

John Howson is the Lib Dem candidate to be our next Police & Crime Commissioner (PCC).

He is an experienced candidate and a County Councillor here in Oxford.

The current Conservative PCC has INCREASED the police Council Tax by 50% but CUT police officers.

John Howson offers the fresh approach we need.

"John Howson is the best choice to be our new PCC," says Layla Moran MP.

It's time for a change at Thames Valley Police.

- ✗ The current Conservative PCC missed his own target for cutting knife crime—in fact it went UP!
- ✗ He has had complaints upheld against him—but refused to apologise.
- ✗ He appointed a political ally to be his Deputy—paid for by taxpayers.
