

Planning home improvements?

Before you start, see what your home could really achieve.

Stone cottages. 1970s detached. Modern builds.
Every house starts in a different place.

A House Like Mine Charlbury shows what your home could achieve.

Find a house like yours and see:

- How its energy performance could improve
- What changes might make the biggest difference
- What it could mean for comfort and bills

It's a practical first step before you begin.

Come and see what's possible for a house like yours at Charlbury Memorial Hall on 12 March, alongside the screening of Power Station.

"The house assessment really clarified the various measures and their costs for us, something we only had a vague idea about before.

It laid out some interesting options, which have been incredibly helpful in planning our next home improvement steps."
